

Copenhagen – Congressman Earl Blumenauer (D-Ore) from Copenhagen issued the following statement in response to President Obama and Premier Wen, Prime Minister Singh, and President Zuma reaching a meaningful agreement on climate change.

“This is an important step and refreshing reminder that this administration is committed to making change a reality. Global warming is the greatest challenge of this generation, and with this announcement, the United States is now helping to lead the world to a stronger, cleaner future rather than sitting on the sidelines.”
